

Brand Guidelines

for Community Partners

This guide has been designed to provide you with recommendations and instructions on how to properly use the NOPL logo in your marketing materials.

Primary Logo

The primary logo is the visual representation of the New Orleans Public Library. Within our logo, a bookshelf containing colorful and diverse books represents our values of inclusivity, a celebration of diversity, and a respect for knowledge and education as a means to transform one's life. A vibrant and diverse color palette communicates that our organization is welcoming, dynamic, and fun. The wordmark is a uniquely stylized version of the Library's name. It identifies the system in a distinctive manner and should not be altered in any way.

There are two versions of our primary logo. The white logo should be used on white or light backgrounds and the black logo on black or dark backgrounds.

Please use files ending in `_RGB` for digital applications and files ending in `_CMYK` for print applications.

Logo Variations

When B&W reproduction is required, one of the above versions should be used. The left column should be used on white or light backgrounds and the right column for black or dark backgrounds.

If the Library website does not appear anywhere else on a document, the logo should include the URL, as above. This is especially useful when the logo is used on a partner's marketing materials.

Minimum Clear Space and Size

Minimum Clear Space

When the logo is used alongside other images or copy, a minimum amount of clear space must surround it. This space is equal to the height of the taller book element within the logo. The clear area will change as the graphic is scaled.

Minimum Size

The logo may not be reproduced any smaller than 1" wide. Any smaller will negatively impact the readability of the logo for all audiences.

Logo Don'ts

DO NOT change the colors of the logo.

DO NOT recreate the logo or typography.

DO NOT place other graphics on or near the logo.

DO NOT distort the proportions of the logo.

DO NOT alter the composition of the logo.

DO NOT apply special effects to the logo.

DO NOT frame the logo with a box.

DO NOT use old versions of the logo.

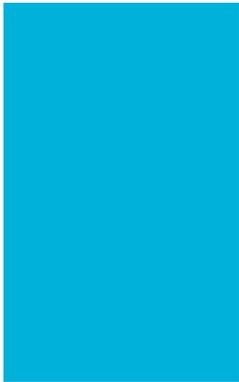

DO NOT rotate the logo.

DO NOT use the logo on a color or background image

Using the logo correctly will maintain consistency and integrity for the New Orleans Public Library brand. Please follow these guidelines.

Color is a fundamental part of the Library’s visual identity. Our logo consists of seven colors, providing a bright and vibrant palette. Codes are given for each color to maintain accuracy and consistency when reproduced. CMYK codes should only be used for print materials. RGB and Hex codes should only be used for the web or digital purposes. All Library marketing materials should be limited to using these colors. Black and white may also be used.
